HOT SPRINGS HIGH SCHOOL

We Live In A

Park . . .

What a coincidence! Our picturesque tourist-haven was discovered by a tourist! That's right. In mid-September of 1541, the Spaniard, Hernando de Soto, was led by native Ouachita Indians to their tribal truce grounds, the Valley of Magic Waters. As a result, our spa welcomes the eager trek of more than one million paying vacationers annually. Efforts to accommodate its lifeblood comfortably have made our home-town National Park one of the most dazzling kaleidoscopes of beauty in the nation. From its mountain-range top hat to its magnolia-tree ruffled cuffs, Hot Springs National Park is a 989-acre Elysium to its proud populace of almost 30,000.

The National Park's greatest assets are its amazing thermal springs, but the springs' appeal as a soothing balm for worn bodies is further enhanced by the beautiful architecture of the valley in which they are contained. The lakes wink their alluring invitation during the warmer months as the sunlight sparkles on the deep blue-green water, and the surrounding luxuriant forests frame them in an eye-pampering picture-postcard style.

Snow in large amounts is an oddity in Hot Springs, but the breath-taking scenography of a mountain road dressed with half a foot of it rivals that of a Currier and Ives lithograph. Seasonal changes cannot alter the impressive grace of the elegant bathhouses, and a stroll on the promenade never fails to remind one that he is in an area so attractive that the national government has undertaken to protect it.

Put on your hiking shoes or your water skis; buy a racing form or a Miss Arkansas Pageant program; be in the gallery at the golf or archery tournaments; plan your convention banquet or class party; or watch the same star perform in person at a theater-restaurant and on the screen of a movie theater — there is no limit to the activities you can enjoy in the "City of Vapors." Our national playground is really a medley of four resorts in one park: an internationally famous spa, a National Park, a lakeside recreation center, and an aesthetic mountain retreat. Visitors and residents alike never seem to tire of the multi-faceted toy — Hot Springs.

Hot Springs attracts thousands of tourists annually. This influx of tourists has to be provided with food, shelter, and entertainment. A high percentage of the Spa's population is employed in running motels, restaurants, service stations, and auction houses.

Although our city is designed to serve the tourists, we also have many branch plants of large industries located nearby. The wide range of miscellaneous enterprises operating in Hot Springs includes such industries as Reynolds Metals, Lake Catherine Footwear, National Rejectors, and General Motors.

The Spa's three lakes are formed by three large dams, each producing thousands of volts of electricity daily. The lakes also have boat landings which rent anything from fishing tackle to water skis.

CARPENTER, Remmel, and Blakely Dams represent a construction cost of $40,000,000 and produce 140,000 kilowatts of power.

Fourteen bathhouses, seventy churches, and fourteen public schools — these ninety-eight institutions serve the million visitors and residents of Hot Springs. No matter whether a person is of poor health, weak faith, or inferior education, our city in the valley has a cure for all his ailments.

From their high-mounted vantage points, three institutions stand as sentinels, symbolic of the curative elements contained in our park: the Rehabilitation Center, with its lofty stone face; St. John's Church and its heraldic golden domes; and Hot Springs Senior High School, a fortress from whose battlements fly our country's colors, proclaiming the ideals of the Republic that owns our beautiful city.

Alma Mater

There's a school we all love dearly.
We call her old Hot Springs High,
And for her, our Alma Mater,
We will fight and die.
We will cheer her on to victory.
Oh, let our voices ring true
And our hearts be ever loyal,
Dear old Hot Springs High, to you.

Mr. Humble links school and community

A chain is a series of interlocking loops, each depending on the other for strength. Our school and our community form two units of a chain. Connecting them is a third — you, Mr. Humble. Through your participation in civic affairs, you have made the community aware of our problems and progress; and through your concern for the community, you have encouraged our civic pride and support.

It is with sincere admiration that we dedicate the 1963 OLD GOLD BOOK to you, Mr. Terry Humble.

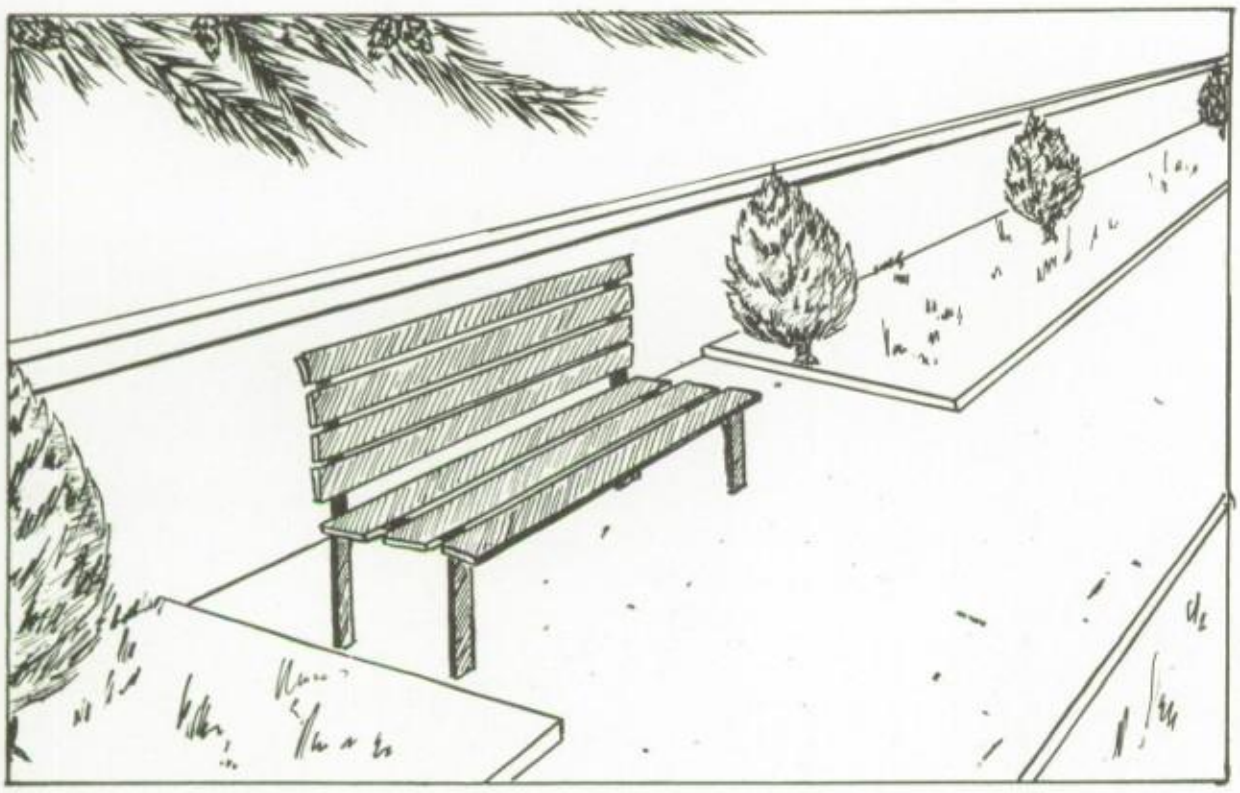
Death, the silent, endless sleep of life, calls from us the ones we dearly love; and in the passing of Miss Mary Clifton and Arnold Burroughs it came close to the lives of the faculty and students of high school.

Yet, to die is not to be forgotten, and these two thoughtful people will live in the hearts and minds of all who came in contact with them and loved them.

We Study In A Park



On a park bench or in a museum — anywhere a group of people interested in learning are gathered — a classroom exists. A classroom is a many-faced thing — happy and cheerful, solemn and serious, or quietly pensive. It is happy when its students are participating in discussions, solemn during exams, and pensive while its students are quietly studying. It is here that leadership, culture, patriotism, and many other qualities are developed. It is here also that the scholar is separated from the average student, the interested from the apathetic.

Public-spirited citizens comprise Board

With 6,149 students attending schools in Hot Springs, wise guidance is needed. Five public-spirited men and one woman legislate our entire school system, and their task is no easy one. There must be general inspection, plans, improvements, and new facilities for thirteen schools.

The Board of Education holds regular monthly meetings, as well as numerous special ones. Representatives attend state and national conventions. Although the responsibilities are numerous, the members have the satisfaction of observing an efficient school system in which they take an active part.

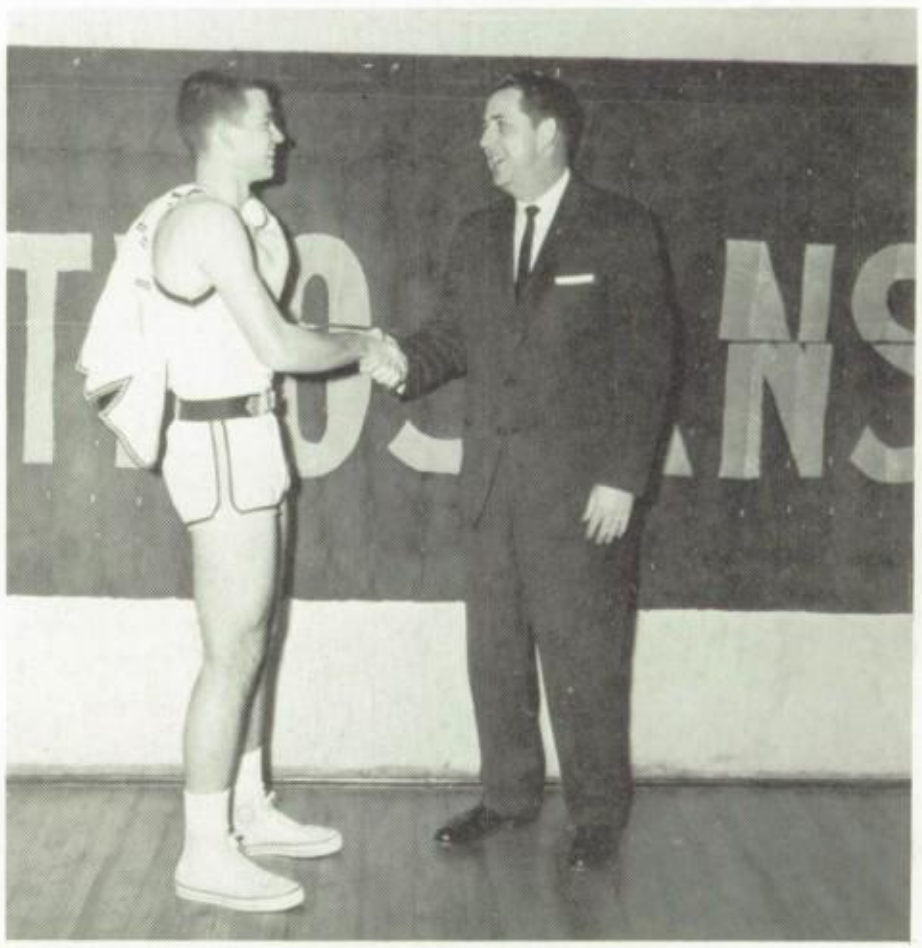
Superintendent plans expansion program

Snow! . . . School? In thousands of homes in School District No. 6, radio sets are tuned in while families await the decision of one man — Dr. Hugh Mills.

The responsibilities of the superintendent of schools are widespread. They range from selecting faculty personnel to planning building expansion; and from talking with parents interested in school activities to speaking to civic groups on educational problems, goals, and accomplishments.

Dr. Mills hopes to increase the faculty of our high school and to expand the facilities of the home economics and language departments.



A FORMER BASKETBALL "PRO," Dr. Mills is intensely interested in all phases of the athletic program. Don Little receives his congratulations for fine sportsmanship.

TINKERING WITH THEIR ANTIQUE AUTO is a favorite pastime of Mr. Humble and daughter Jo Beth.

He's a big man. He's an educator, carrying the responsibility of a progressive school. He's a good citizen, active in church and civic work. He's a father, with the responsibilities of a home and family. Mr. Humble is all of these and more.

He's a big administrator. Mr. Humble is well informed on the new trends of education, which he combines with his own ideas to improve our school. He is interested in the appearance of HSHS, both inside and out, and urges us students to accept the responsibility of keeping it attractive.

He's a big friend. As we walk in the front door and look down the hall, we usually see a tall man chatting with several students or teachers. This man is Mr. Humble. He is interested in each of us and welcomes us to his office with a friendly hello and a quick smile.

He's really big with us!

Smile, Mrs. Mackey. You're on Candid Camera!

Today our cameras focus on Mrs. Mackey, assistant principal of HSHS. We are hidden in room 406 so we can secretly observe a student council meeting. Mrs. Mackey, as sponsor, sits in the corner desk, letting the students take complete control of the meeting.

The meeting has adjourned now, and we are switching to our camera hidden behind Mrs. Mackey's flower pot. As we zoom in for a close-up, we see her signing a letter as chairman of the board of directors of Girls State. We have to leave her now, but will join her later in the field house.

"One! Two! Three! Hallaballoo!" From our vantage point under the stage, we can see Mrs. Mackey leading her cheer.

At noon behind the auditorium curtains, our cameras catch a glimpse of Mrs. Mackey during her few restful moments of the day. She is eating lunch with her eyes glued to the TV set, watching "As the World Turns."

Switching back to cameras in her office, we now find Mrs. Mackey approving club activities, setting meeting dates, checking ticket sales— Oh, no! There she comes to water her flowers. She's found us out! Smile, Mrs. Mackey. You're on Candid Camera!

STERN VOICE and jolly personality ring out over school.

HAVE YOU HEARD Mrs. Mackey's story of Mama Bear? She seems to have trouble keeping everybody happy.

In the midst of confusion, a cool head is hard to find. The office staff furnishes just such a head in our school. The undercurrent of seemingly apparent confusion is really a well-planned, smoothly running school office.

Signing students in and out, preparing transcripts, and taking care of absentees are a few of the important functions performed for almost twelve hundred students.

Guidance personnel aid students' planning

GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS — Bonita Power, Brenda Smith, Diane Schraeder, Audrey Caudell, Mary Mast, and Tempa Poindexter — examine college catalogues for features they like.

"What shall I do after graduation?" This is probably the most important question asked by high school students. It is certainly of paramount importance to seniors. But juniors and sophomores ask questions too: "What subjects should I take this year? May I double in English? Where can I get a good job?" Under this continuous barrage of questions, two counselors patiently help us seek answers.

Administering standardized tests is also part of their work, the most important of these being the American College Tests and the College Entrance Examination Board Tests for seniors, and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests for juniors. This testing program is helpful for college entrance and for scholarships.

All of our educational training tends to make us self-reliant. But oftentimes guidance is the only way out of the dark chaos of ignorance, and counselors of HSHS hold out their hands to us.

Did you know that the HSHS library has six thousand books?

Many new features are being continually added to the library to make it more attractive. The reading corner, complete with colorful chairs and carpet, provides students with a cheerful study atmosphere. The reading table, dedicated to the late Mrs. Hovell, furnishes a place for reading magazines and newspapers. The listening booth lets students "get away from it all" by playing their favorite records, while soft music throughout the room encourages restful study.

Our library is unique in that it is the only library in the state with a whole room dedicated to Arkansas. Here can be found books, maps, pamphlets, and magazines on our state. Here is interesting information on Arkansas' people, cities and towns, history, and industries.

ARKANSAS ROOM is the pride of the school. From all over the state have been collected souvenirs and gifts representative of the cultural and industrial products of the state.

classes relive literature

Believing that literature is life, members of an American literature class took to the open road in search of proof. They spent a lazy week end in the Ozark Mountains, listening to the natives recount their folk tales and sing their folk ballads, while a few hooks found their way into quiet Ozark streams in true Huckleberry Finn style. This was living literature.

A more scholarly approach was evidenced by a copy of Chaucer's Complete Works in the midland dialect under a senior's arm for leisure reading.

Just as varied was the semester study of composition at all grade levels.

TRAGEDY STRIKES THE FRENCH CLASS as Allen Lee dies in a skit written in French by Jon Springs.

In modern society where developments in communication help make the world smaller, it is necessary for us to learn the language and customs of our neighbors in other countries.

The approach to this is far from dry. How can one keep from learning when a room gives the atmosphere of Paris and the students address one another in French, the language of romance? Plays and projects all show original thought, bringing to life ancient customs such as dueling over a lost love. All productions are performed in the native tongue of France.

Students displayed their projects on March 14 and 15, when a language fair was held in Lee School gym.

Who says Latin is a dead language! The Romans contributed much to our civilization such as our government, laws, alphabet, calendar, and of course, Roman numerals.

First-year students translate Roman myths and legends. In second year, they engage in Caesar's Gallic wars. The very interested continue to third year, when they read of Cataline's plot to destroy Rome, which was thwarted by Cicero's brilliant orations in the senate.

Projects and tape recordings enrich the courses.

Do you know you use Latin every day?

During the evolution of man, communication has been a prime factor in social advancement. Speech is the basis of communication. Each day we are in situations where it is necessary to express ourselves to others, and one of the goals of our speech department is to educate students in correct methods of establishing good relations with other people.

Techniques and history of the theater are taught in the drama classes. Students also learn to apply theatrical make-up, to design scenery, to block plays, and to work lights.

Speech and drama improve communication

In a changing world such as ours, which transportation and communication tend to make smaller, it is imperative that we know more about peoples and their lives on a local, national, and international scale.

It is necessary to know past history; and through world history, American history, and Arkansas history we gain this insight. Some of our classes of history took a trip to Vicksburg, Mississippi, to visit that colorful place of Civil War fame.

Government, basic in the organization of our country, is examined in American government classes.

The study of psychology brings knowledge of the mind of man, his thinking process, his reaction to situations, and an insight to his emotions. Students taking this course benefit by becoming better adjusted and better qualified to understand other people.

New ideas and old principles

The Theory of Relativity, Evolution of Man, Photosynthesis of a Pine Tree, Allergies' Effect on Types of Skin, Ionization of Molecules, and Newton's Laws of Motion — sounds like a school for advanced science majors, doesn't it? Actually these are science fair projects submitted by typical students.

In today's exciting world where new ideas and old principles are combined for newer and better things, young people are eager to learn all they can about science. HSHS offers many varied science courses that serve to increase their knowledge.

Biology offers students a chance to study the basic processes of plant and animal life. Chemistry provides them with a knowledge of the molecular composition of common, everyday objects. Physics enlightens them as to the relationships between matter and energy.

What doth the future hold for you?
Perhaps in math you'll find a clue.

Few high schools can boast of a math department as illustrious as that of HSHS. Well-qualified teachers + interesting, progressive courses + industrious students add up to success almost anyway you look at it.

Math courses — including business math, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry — prepare students to solve all kinds of problems and cause many students to choose math as their field of work. Knowing the increasing importance of mathematics in science, HSHS is not to be left behind. Next year a course in calculus will be offered to interested mathematicians.

The world around us is graced with skyscrapers and other massive structures designed and built by architects and engineers. Students in this class of instruction work painstakingly for perfection in their drawings.

Wanted: Career-minded high school graduate with working knowledge of commercial skills for position in growing corporation.

This ad could easily be answered by one of the graduating seniors enrolled in the commercial department. There they learn to type, to take dictation, to operate various office machines, and to keep accurate records. Of course, these skills can be used not only in jobs, but also at home or in a college dorm.

At the beginning of the course, the requirements of 30 words in typing and 60 words in shorthand seem impossible; but soon through daily work and practice, these goals become realities. Squiggles can soon be deciphered and then typed without a mistake. These efforts not only teach business skills but introduce young people into the harried world of business.

Auto Mechanics remedy buses' ailments

"I THINK IT'LL LIVE!" happily explain Ted Nobles, Johnny Green, and Larry Turner after they have performed minor surgery on one of our school buses.

With the eight-thirty bell, a busload of boys heads for the Gorge. Sound unusual? It's just daily routine for the auto mechanics boys.

Here they become the surgeons of our school buses and keep them running, rain or shine. While buses are their specialty, you will never see an auto mechanics boy standing puzzled over the engine of his car.

Driver Education students battle traffic

Broken tail lights, lawsuits, and smashed fenders are hazards that daily haunt a driving instructor. In Hot Springs the student drivers must face a really hard test — battling the tourist traffic.

The course lasts for one semester, with thirty hours of class work and eight hours of actual driving including night driving. Films from various motor companies are used.

Woodshop builds better husbands

A yell of agony from the work room means only one thing — a woodshop boy's thumb has come in contact with a hammer. However, there is no cause for alarm, because by the end of the year many beautiful and useful items have evolved from that starting calamity.

This year, the boys built sixty hurdles for the track team as a class project. And remember those Trojan trash cans? Woodshop did the honors of the paint job on them.

Each morning a group of junior and senior boys went to the Gorge, their work headquarters. Individual projects of the boys included furniture for their homes and creative building.

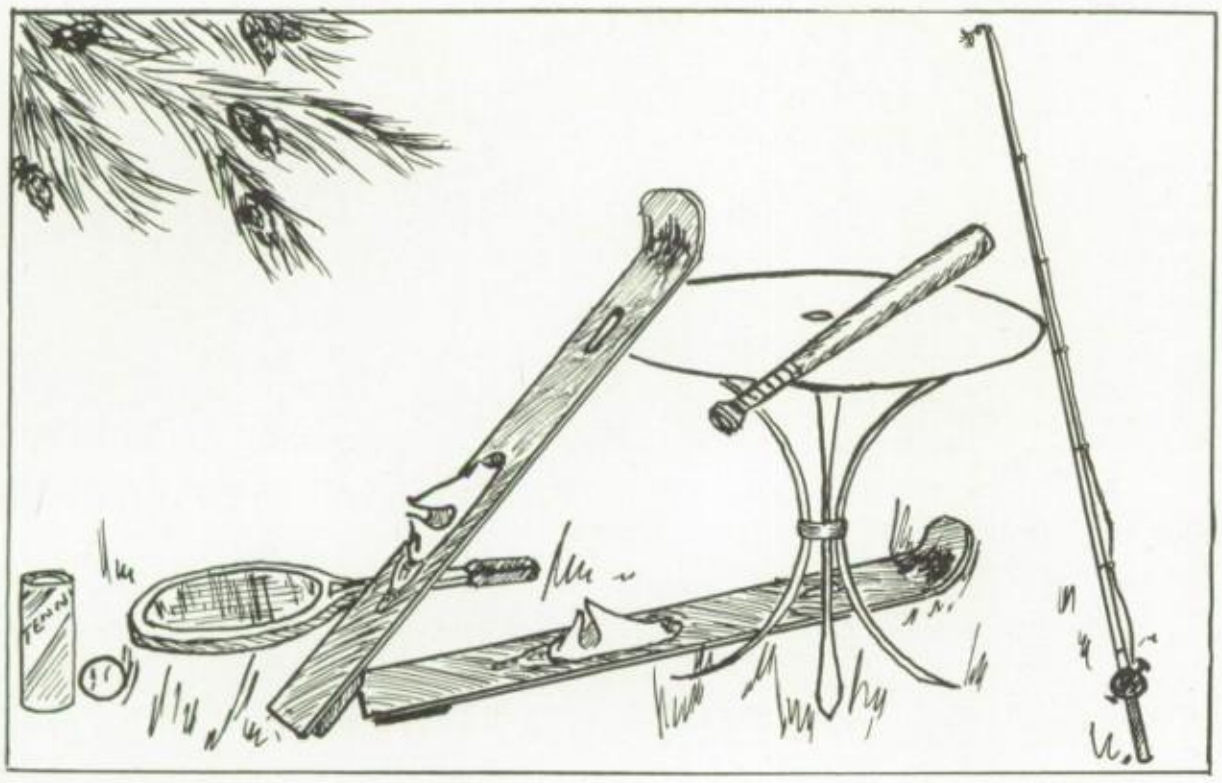
We Play In A Park



The Homecoming dance, Student Council election, Spring Concert, and class plays — all of these are high lights of the year. But how can we say definitely what a high light is? To some it can be a friendly "Hi" from a special person, a coke with a friend, or a game of tennis. Each of us will have memories of 1963, some good and some bad; but none of us will ever forget it.

"We're with you team, so fight!" Record crowds and enthusiasm filled Rix Stadium and the field house for all games. Much of the credit for unusual interest in sports is due the Dads' Booster Club members.

They undertook many projects to let the boys know they were with them all the way. They promoted school spirit by taking busloads of students to out-of-town games. When it was impossible to make these trips, they broadcasted the football and basketball games. At the first game we noticed that a face-lifting had been given to Rix Stadium by this energetic club. Now we could be proud, not just of the team, but also of the surroundings.

The Booster Club made a big hit at the homecoming game, when it presented the Trojans with a mascot — the Trojan war horse. Because the club feels that the Trojans are "the greatest" and have much potential in both football and basketball, they took the teams to see the Razorbacks, who excel in both of these sports. Money for these projects was partially raised by the selling of Trojan bumper stickers to all Trojan fans.

The '62-'63 officers of the club are Major C. E. Jamison, president; Mr. Virgil Rogers, vice-president; and Mr. Warren Chitwood, secretary-treasurer.

Unless you have nerves of steel and ears of iron, don't venture into the high school field house during a lively pep assembly. Trojan spirit rises to its fullest height as cheerleaders lead the student body in deafening yells.

As Mrs. Mackey prepares to lead the never-to-be-forgotten "Hallaballoo," the students spring to their feet and join in the "roof-raising" cheer. The roof doesn't settle back down; and neither do the students as "Battle Cry," Dixie," and "Two Bits" ring through the air. Then the grand finale comes at the playing of our Alma Mater.

TROJAN QUEEN BILLIE ANN ROBERTS

Trojan spirit

Trojans all over the field house rose simultaneously to their feet as two beautiful queens, preceded by two tiny crownbearers, approached their thrones and assembled court to begin their reign.

Imaginative decorations of black and gold draped the court area, where twelve lovely maids and two escorts awaited their oncoming monarchs.

The ceremony reached its climax, turning dreams into reality, when Frank McMillin declared, "I crown you 1963 Trojan Basketball Homecoming Queen," and placed a diadem upon the head of Billie Ann Roberts.

Enthusiastic applause for the royalty quickly turned into a rousing pep assembly as the Trojan chant brought arm-waving sophomores, juniors, and seniors — all Trojans — to their feet. It was all a tribute to a stately royal court and to a powerfully agile basketball team.

Special days-a welcomed change of pace

Welcome relief from daily drudgery is offered by special days and weeks. Civic week is probably the most important. The most fun-filled week is Twirp Week, when the girls foot the bills.

Brains + brawn = great Football season

The 1962 Trojan football season was one of the best for Hot Springs in many years, as the team marched to victory in five out of their twelve games.

Accumulating three touchdowns and two points after touchdowns, the Hot Springs Trojan Eleven defeated the Mountain Home Bombers in the opening game of the season. The combined threat of John Beebe's passing and Phil Jamison's speed paced the Trojans throughout the game. Early in the fourth quarter, end David Harper carried the pigskin for the final touchdown, making the score 20-0 and cinching the Trojans' first win in two seasons.

The next week our warriors marched onto the DeQueen field against the Leopards. Alan Janske received a kickoff on the Trojan twenty-five and traveled seventy-five yards for a touchdown in the early minutes of play. Our second scoring run came as Beebe lugged the football over the DeQueen goal in the second period, making a final score of 13-6.

The victorious Trojans next traveled to Little Rock to meet the Hall High Warriors in the first Big-9 Conference game of the season. Hall High turned up on top after a struggle, with a final score of 25-7.

After a hard-fought game, the men of Troy next felt the blow of defeat from the Benton Panthers. The Trojans fought hard all through the game but fell short by two points, leaving the final score 21-19. This evened the Trojans' record to two wins and two losses.

In front of a capacity crowd of five thousand the Trojans next faced their arch-rivals, the undefeated Little Rock Central Tigers. The Trojan line, sparked by Stuart Brammier and Roger Maddox, impressed the crowd with its superb determination and show of strength. However, the concluding score was 13-7, making the third Trojan defeat.

The mighty Men of Troy bounced back into the win column by defeating the Texarkana Razorbacks in their next game. During the first half, the Trojan defense held the Porkers to only one first down, that coming on a penalty. But practice and determination to win paid off for the Trojans as the scoreboard recorded a winning 7-0 score. Allen Broyles, fullback, received a leg injury in this game and was unable to complete the season for the Trojans.

With the season balanced at 3-3, the Trojans journeyed to North Little Rock to battle for their second conference win. Bill Walker intercepted a pass on our 35-yard line with less than 20 seconds left to play in the game and bolted 65-yards for a touchdown, giving the Trojans a 12-6 victory over the Wildcats.

Pageantry, color, ceremony, and rough-tough football came to a climax as the Trojans met the Smackover Buckaroos in a head-on clash for a heartbreaking homecoming defeat. Several outstanding attempts for a touchdown by Trojan players were overcome by the Buckaroo defensive line, leaving the score at 13-0.

Blytheville edged ahead of the Trojans in the first quarter of the next game and pushed to a 13-6 Trojan defeat. The Trojan Eleven fought a hard three quarters trying to capture the lead but fell short on their 14-yard line as the final buzzer sounded. This defeat left the Hot Springs players with a 4-5 record.

Walker sparked the Hot Springs team to its fifth victory in a thrilling Dad's Night game against the Fort Smith Grizzlies. A 12-yard pass by Beebe gave the ball to Harper for the first score. In the second quarter, Harper again gained control of the ball and went for the touchdown. The third touchdown came as Janske completed a 9-play drive for a closing score of 19-6.

The game against the El Dorado Wildcats marked the Trojans' sixth loss in eleven games. An El Dorado field goal and touchdown gave the Wildcats a 10-0 favor over Hot Springs at the half. Maddox, ordinarily a defensive specialist, scored the only touchdown for the Trojans. Beebe kicked the extra point, leaving the final score at 10-7.

For the closing game of the season, the Trojans faced the Pine Bluff Zebras, top team in Arkansas. The Trojan Eleven were overcome by the Zebras at every attempt but fought hard even to the finishing seconds of play with the score 32-0. The Trojan Varsity season ended with a commendable record of five wins and seven losses.

The Trojan "Bee" team finished its 1962 season with a record of two wins and four losses. The squad, composed of thirty sophomore players, practiced all season learning to work well together as a team and to represent our school around the state. Calisthenics, weight lifting, and leg work comprised much of their training. These thirty "Baby" Trojans will grow and train during the spring and summer to become the backbone of our Trojan Varsity team next year.

successful season record of 16-9

Outstanding teamwork paid off for the Trojans in their 1962-1963 basketball season by placing them in a four-way tie for fourth place in the state.

Their conference season opened as the Trojans, boasting a 9-1 record for non-conference games, met the Fort Smith Grizzlies. Our warriors, trailing throughout the game, failed in a final attempt to turn defeat into victory during the last quarter. The closing buzzer sounded on a 47-44 loss for our team.

Next the Hot Springs cagers played host to their arch-rivals, the Little Rock Central Tigers before a capacity crowd of more than 1,000 spectators.

Don Little and Bobby Herring each rang up 19 points for the Trojans, gaining a decided lead over the Tigers. The fourth period was marked with fouls as Little Rock tried to make a comeback. Our team proved it could work smoothly under pressure by defeating the Little Rock team 72-60, boosting the Trojans' rating to fourth in the state.

Teamwork, practice, and determination

For our third conference game, we traveled to El Dorado to meet the Wildcats. Sparked by Little and Herring, our players scored a 28-23 lead in the first half. Trailing throughout the game, the Wildcats tied the score in the fourth quarter, which ran the game into a three-minute overtime. In the last five seconds of the overtime period, El Dorado's Bill Rainier hit a 20-foot jump shot to conquer the Trojans 60-58.

Coach McCauley's cagers next met strong opposition from the North Little Rock Wildcats, number one team in the state. The Trojan players offered little competition for the Wildcats, although the desire to win was great from both the spectators and the team. During the first half the Wildcats took the lead with 24-13 points. Little, gaining 16 points, was the high Hot Springs scorer, trailed by Bill Walker with 10. Several of our varsity were absent because of illness and injury, which may have accounted partly for the 61-40 closing score. This defeat brought the Trojan record to 12 wins and 5 losses, including a 1-4 conference record.

Four-way tie puts Trojans

The Men of Troy journeyed to Texarkana for their next conference game with the Razorbacks. The Hot Springs team proved victorious but only after a hard-fought battle. As the final signal rang, the scoreboard showed a score of 50-46.

Our team accepted defeat from the Little Rock Hall High Warriors in our ensuing conference game. Both teams stayed close together all through the hardwood play, although Hall maintained the lead. The Trojans, hitting more baskets than their rivals, were defeated because of the free-throw accuracy of the Hall players. The final score 54-49 marked the seventh loss out of twenty games for our players.

The Trojan chargers traveled to Pine Bluff for their next-to-last conference encounter against the Zebras, number five team in the state. The Hot Springs cagers, underdogs, needed to win this game to be eligible for the state tournament. The lead see-sawed between the Trojans and the Zebras during the last quarter. Bubba Payton carried the Trojans to victory in the last eight seconds of play with a free shot, and the score stood 60-59.

in play-off for fourth place

In their last conference game the Trojans faced a situation in which their trip to the tournament depended on the outcome of games between Fort Smith and Pine Bluff and between Hot Springs and Blytheville.

Our Trojan squad, knowing they must win this game, showed excellent defensive play all through the game and came from behind in the second half to conquer the Blytheville Chicks, 44-33. Bubba Payton, Don Little, and Bill Walker paced the team to victory by rebounding and blocking many Chick attempts for baskets.

Fort Smith's victory over Pine Bluff and Hot Springs' victory over Blytheville placed the Trojans in a four-way tie for fourth place in the state. In the tournament play-off to determine the four top teams in the Big Nine Conference, our Trojans fought the Pine Bluff Zebras. In this, the last game of the year, the Trojan players were penalized throughout the game by fouls, which contributed to the 63-50 loss.

The most successful Trojan season in several years ended with 16 wins and 9 losses.

Friendly competition typifies Intramurals

Many afternoons after school we hear excited voices coming from Lee gym, and we know immediately that intramurals are being played inside. Whether the game is softball, volleyball, basketball, or bowling, the competition is always keen and team spirits high.

Although they are not competing for recognition outside of HSHS, the girls take the games as seriously as a play-off for state championship.

The teachers also get into the act during the annual Central vs. HSHS basketball game. All the proceeds go to the Polio Drive.

The team travels to meets throughout the state. Entering events such as the high jump, pole vault, hurdles, broad jump, shot put, and relay races, our warriors revive some of the athletic achievements of the men of ancient Troy.

The Trojan track and field members this year will travel to Malvern, North Little Rock for the Wildcat Relays, Texarkana for the Hog Relays, Little Rock for the Tigers Relays, Malvern, El Dorado, Pine Bluff, and Little Rock for the State Big 9 Championship Meet to compete with leading teams from over the state.

All is quiet. Not a sound can be heard as the "green" becomes the scene of the climax to a tense drama. Tension mounts, and the soft thud of the golf club making contact with the ball brings the excited spectators and players to that thrilling moment when the winner is announced.

Qualifying for the golf team was on a weekly basis, as only four of the five team members could participate each week in the competition.

HSHS golfers will play games against Arkadelphia, Texarkana, Fort Smith, and North Little Rock. They will take part in the State Tournament to try to retain the state championship held by the school for the past two years.

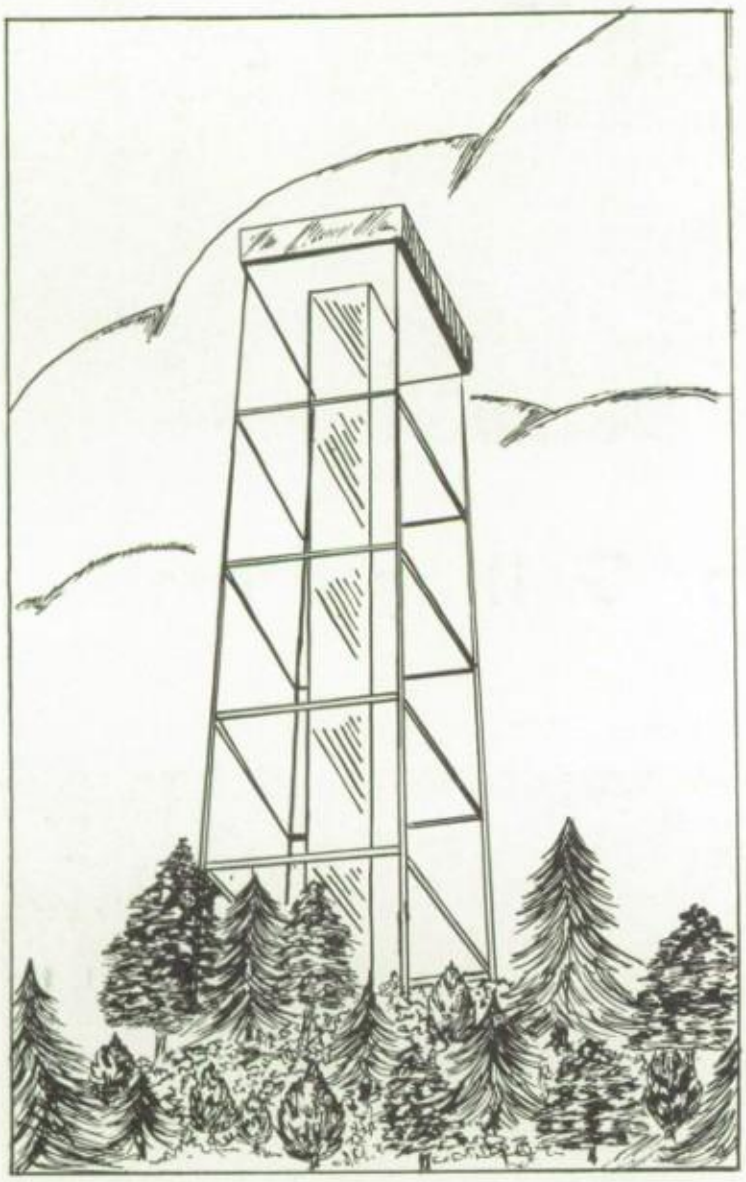
We Work Together In A Park



A club is responsibility, co-operation, and work. It helps us advance our understanding of others and broadens our ability to work with others. In our school are political parties in embryo, civic clubs in miniature.

Our clubs are fun, fellowship, and fond memories. Since mutual likes and goals are the magnets that draw people together to form a club, it is here that we make friendships that frequently last all our lives.

Tuesday morning, eight o'clock, and a gavel marked a significant occasion, the Student Council meeting. The sounding of the buzzer weekly called one slightly drowsy but alert homeroom representative and his alternate to the study hall to plan the week's activities.

This organization arranged entertaining and educational projects for the school. Some Council-sponsored activities were Twirp Week, Civic Week, the candy store, basketball and football homecoming ceremonies, and King and Queen of Hearts election. A surprise Christmas present to the school was a new piano for the field house.

Orderly confusion, new ideas mark 1963

Long after the school day was over, lights were burning for the OLD GOLD BOOK staff in Room 302. There, amid orderly confusion, we worked throughout the year to present to you students a book which we hope will serve as a lasting remembrance of high-school days.

Compiling this yearbook was not an easy task. Drawing layouts, selling ads, writing copy, and meeting deadlines were problems that became part of our life. The reward for the work was a feeling of accomplishment and satisfaction when the pages had been sent to the publisher.

As OLD GOLD BOOK staff members, we formed lasting friendships while learning to work together, to accept responsibility, and to aid one another through constructive criticism.

"Yes, sir, those Key Club boys really keep busy! They are some of the sharpest go-getters in our community!"

That's right. The Key Club was very active this year, promoting numerous activities and service projects. The selling of Trojan stickers was a principal project of the club; but others included ushering for the Miss Arkansas Pageant, sponsoring Dad's Night during football season, and ringing the Salvation Army bell at Christmas time.

The club sponsored a "slave sale" to raise money. There were also hayrides and parties, giving the members of the Key Club fun while serving their school and community.

Career Club wins Christmas Parade honors

The only way we can repay our debt to the past is by putting the future in debt to ourselves.

Career Club members apply the words of John Buchan. Participating in the Easter Seal Drive and in the Pilot Club Christmas Parade; helping in the Student Book Exchange and at the Crippled Children's Camp; and sponsoring dances after games are just a few important civic and student events marked on a Career Club girl's calendar.

High morals, leadership ability, and scholastic aptitude are necessary traits of these "women of tomorrow," who learn about various trades and careers from prominent businessmen and women in the Hot Springs area.

Brains + math courses = Mu Alpha Theta

Would you like to win a $100 scholarship to further your education in math? If so, the first step in becoming eligible is joining Mu Alpha Theta, which requires five semesters of math and a B average in math. Every year the offering of this scholarship is the major project of Math Club.

At regular monthly meetings, members decide on other worthwhile projects to be undertaken by the club. This year it sponsored a post-game dance during basketball season. To raise more money for its scholarship award, the club put on cake sales during the year. Last semester Math Club initiated a program of awarding certificates to members having an A semester average in any math course.

JCL enlivens so-called "dead language"

Old members, new members — all enjoy Junior Classical League initiation when third-year students dressed in togas become gods and goddesses. Other yearly high lights are the annual dinner and the state convention.

JCL is the largest and fastest-growing classical organization in the world today. It provides opportunity for students to participate in extra-curricular activities and to promote the classical cause while learning. The only requirement for membership is enrollment in a Latin class.

Air of Old Mexico pervades Spanish Club

"Mi vaca vive in Venezuela."

The immigration bureau? No, it's Mr. Walker's Spanish students! Spanish Club, one of the three language clubs in our school, has a special project this year. Through cake sales and other money-raising projects, it plans to sponsor a boy and a girl to Boys State and Girls State.

The meetings, which are held monthly, have been made more colorful by playing records, reading Spanish magazines, and having speakers from Spain and Mexico. The project which provides the most fun for the members is writing letters to young people in South America. Through this correspondence a friend is made and a firmer bond of international understanding is drawn.

In March, Spanish Club participated in the Language Fair. All students were asked to submit, on a voluntary basis, projects related to the Spanish language. The result was an excellent fair.

French Club revives Napoleonic tortures

Mid shadows, strange whispers, and an occasional scream, Napoleon pronounced gruesome punishments for the accused, sentencing them to five terror-filled minutes in the torture chamber — the fate of initiates to Les Elites. Truthfully, all the participants in the initiation were having a good time.

For the first time the members of this active and enthusiastic club donned sweat shirts and pins that signified they belonged to Les Elites. In the spring the French Club participated in the newly-initiated Language Fair.

Language of Library Club—call numbers

Library Club is made up of the library assistants — a group of conscientious workers devoted to making our library attractive and to seeing that it functions smoothly. Their duties include keeping the books in order, filing cards, stamping books, keeping magazines straight, and giving aid to those who seek it.

One of the Library Club's chief projects, popular with the faculty, was to help teachers make their rooms more attractive by decorating bulletin boards. Membership pins were an innovation enthusiastically received.

On a moonlit night in the Gorge, Future Homemakers of America initiated new members and then honored them with a potluck supper.

In January a dinner preceded a very successful "white elephant" party. Variety reigned over all monthly meetings.

A major portion of FHA's activities centered around the earning of degrees. To earn points for service, some of the girls served at a School Masters dinner and also at the Hot Springs Senior High Faculty dinner.

Co-operation with the junior high Future Homemakers proved rewarding and beneficial to both groups. Many FHA meetings were attended throughout the year, the most important being the state convention in Little Rock.

harmoniously in Spring Concert

As the signal is given for "curtain time," things used to prepare the four-hundred-voice Trojan Chorus for concert are hastily put away; and when the curtains finally open, the audience sees only the brilliant gowns and spotless white coats of the chorus members.

Then amid the thunder of applause, "D. J." mounts the podium, lifts her famous hands, whispers, "Sing it for me!" and the mighty Trojan Chorus begins another superb concert.

OFFICERS: Mike Hardgrave, president; Mr. Spurlin, sponsor; Ronnie Erich, vice-president; Roxanne Kempner, secretary.

Serving as the nucleus of the Trojan Band the Band Key Club accomplished many worthwhile service and social activities throughout the year. Their projects included helping bring the Marching Razorbacks to Hot Springs, presenting a Christmas concert, hosting at the State Band Festival, planning the Band Variety Show and sponsoring school football and basketball dances.

Money earned from club activities financed an OLD GOLD BOOK senior page, the end-of-school band party, and the band Christmas party.

The club's forty-five members attained membership by participation in all of the band's projects and regular attendance at practices, thereby earning the required key or letter.

with that extra something in HSHS life

"Seventy-six trombones led the big parade!" Well, maybe a slight exaggeration, but the Trojan Band does have eighty-five members.

Our band divides into small groups such as the Stardusters and the Pep Band to add that extra something to special occasions, and unites to thrill downtown crowds with its stirring rhythm and black and gold uniforms as it follows the color guard and the drum major in parade formation up Central Avenue.

Everybody remembers the great performances of the Band Variety Show and looks back with nostalgia to the football games and assemblies that would have been incomplete without the band.

In the Christmas season, Trojan musicians set the festive mood for the assembly; and in the spring, they played host to the State Band Festival.

sing the 150 Peppers as they pull into various towns to cheer the Trojan football and basketball players on to victory.

This group, composed of sophomore and junior girls, adds a touch of excitement and colorful organization to football games, basketball games, pep assemblies, and the all-important homecoming ceremonies.

Wearing the traditional black skirts and HS-emblemed white sweaters, this loyal group may be seen in rain, sleet, and snow with unquenchable Trojan spirit and enthusiasm.

Variety, color, sparkle added by T-Steppers

ONE OF THE BEST-RECEIVED ROUTINES of the year was the "Stripper". Nothing wild, just funny!

"I refuse to march around that stupid block one more time!" But she did — in fact, many more times. These agitated words sputtered from the mouth of one girl expressing the thoughts of many — the T-Steppers.

After June, July, and August filled with toil and labor, early mornings till late nights, these thirty-three girls started an exciting year with a roll of drums, the sound of a whistle, and a flash of black and gold pom-poms.

T-Steppers exhibited perfect precision drills at football and basketball games, and brightened pep assemblies with snazzy dance routines and original costumes.

As a result of hard work, rewards for T-Steppers were numerous. In addition to getting official sweaters, they received special recognition in the form of letters for their jackets.

OFFICERS: Susan Ellis, lieutenant; Mickey Kirsch, captain; and Diane Tolson, master sergeant.

Cheerleaders encourage good sportsmanship

It was a still, quiet night. But not for long. Five minutes after this description, downtown Hot Springs rang with the pleasant confusion of a pep rally led by fourteen peppy cheerleaders.

After coming in "first" everyday at the National Cheerleaders Camp at Ole Miss, these girls came back brimming with new cheers and new ideas. Putting these ideas into reality required work, and lots of it. But after hours and hours of practice, perfection found its mark, by way of one of the finest cheerleading groups in Arkansas.

The main duty of our cheerleaders is to accompany the teams to all basketball and football games throughout the year. They also sponsor dances after some of the games.

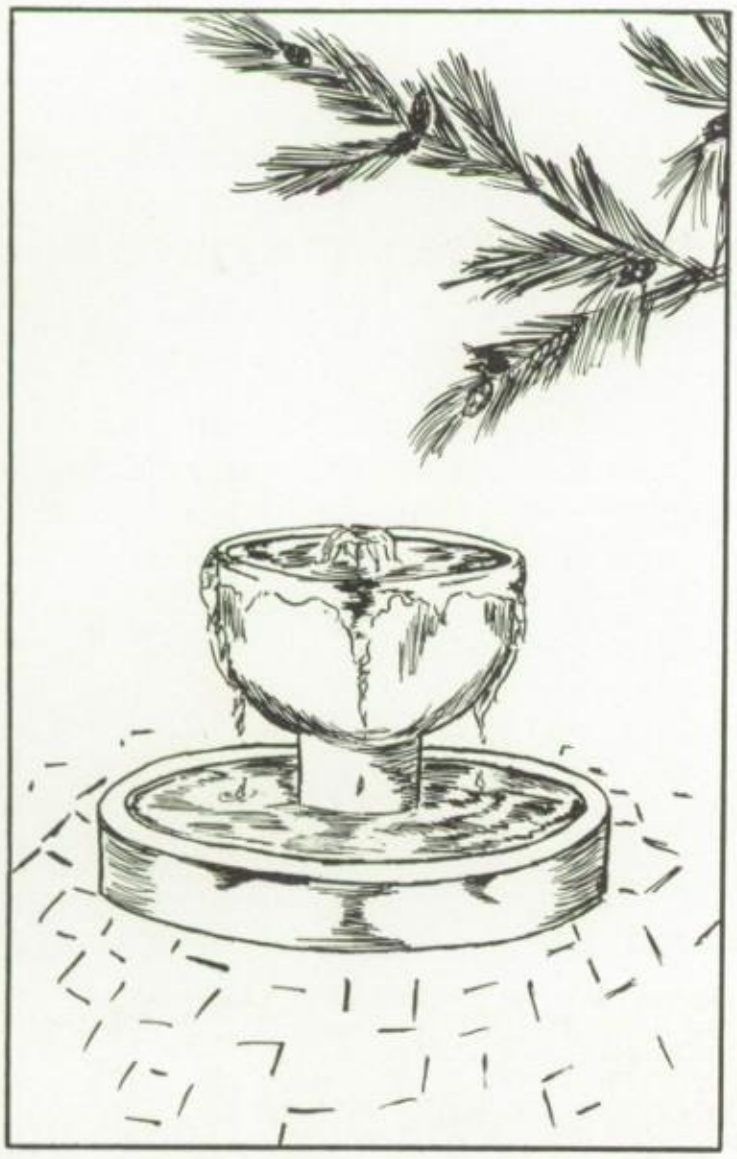
We Make Friends In A Park



A man's most precious possession is a friend. Friends laugh with us in happy moments and cry with us in times of sorrow or grief. A true friend is made by sharing experiences, whether lighthearted or serious. Without friends, life is a vacuum, void of meaning.

In high school we learn, have fun, and share many experiences as we mature emotionally. In later years our happiest memories will be those of moments we shared with our friends.

SENIORS

AND NOW WE REMEMBER

. . . our first day as Trojans, when we stubbornly attempted to mount the front steps and were repeatedly deflected by upperclassmen.

. . . the meaningful holiday events — Thanksgiving, with the Troubadours singing the traditional "Grandma's Thanksgiving"; Christmas and the Candlelight Service; Memorial Day and the patriotic feeling that filled the atmosphere.

. . . the crispness of the autumn air at pep rallies where "Hallabaloo!" and "Battle Cry" pealed through the downtown vicinity, and the unavoidable tingle we experienced at the football and basketball games.

. . . the Student Council elections; the campaigning, when our halls were filled with gay, gaudy posters; the speeches made in the election assembly; and the tenseness of the moments before the announcment of the election returns, which would make us proud that we had selected people ably qualified to represent our school.

. . . Homecomings and their regality as each of the beautiful ceremonies seemed to surpass those of the year before.

. . . more recently and more dearly the Prom, Senior Tea, and GRADUATION.

JUNIORS

. . . habits which were, a year ago, only new experiences in a new school.

. . . a sense of accomplishment as we were selected for National Honor Society, Troubadours, Cheerleaders, and T-Steppers.

. . . satisfaction in discovering that our school has something to offer everyone regardless of his interests.

. . . recognition as we were elected to Boys and Girls State. With this honor came a greater understanding of America's political system.

. . . civic interests from working with the community through the service clubs of our school. After helping the United Fund, Heart Fund, and March of Dimes, we members of the Anchor, Key, and Career Clubs feel oriented for future work with the community.

. . . a glowing affection toward "our home," no longer a new but an old and trusted friend.

WE BEGAN

. . . by numbering 450 and being the largest sophomore class ever to attend HSHS.

. . . by having a sophomore orientation, an introduction to "our new home." From this brief glimpse of high school life, we began our calendar of events, somewhat skeptically but enthusiastically.

. . . by feeling, as we first sang the Alma Mater, the true cord of unity that ties us to the school.

. . . by attending football and basketball games and suddenly realizing that the name "Trojans" is not merely a word but an honor and tradition that we must carry on.

. . . by joining Beta Club, Mu Alpha Theta, Bio Chem Phy, Les Elites, JCL, and Spanish Club.

. . . by making new acquaintances as the students of the two junior highs, Central and Southwest, merged for the first time.

Hot Springs is the only United States city that surrounds a National Park; it is the most beautiful city in Arkansas; it is a utopia to hundreds of retired couples, and each year more than a million vacationers find Hot Springs a paradise; it is a town with a heart and a unique personality. We live in a park--and love it!

"GIRLS, WE'RE GOING TO MEET OUR DEADLINE!" beams Mrs. Housley to faithful staff members who work late to finish captions, copy and layouts.

My year as editor is over; now I have time for thank yous and memories. It has been wonderful being drowned in the fascination of producing the 1963 OLD GOLD BOOK.

I am proud of my staff — both editorial and business — and I thank them for a job well done. The business staff worked hard to sell more advertisements and more annual subscriptions than ever before. My editorial staff gave up many afternoons, nights, and weekends to work to meet deadlines. But self-satisfaction in seeing our OLD GOLD BOOK completed more than compensates our long hours of work.

I also wish to thank Mr. Walker of The Hurley Company, who published our book; Mr. Wensel and Mr. Davis of Hennington Studios, who took our color pictures; and Wylie's Studio, who handled our photography work. The Chamber of Commerce, the SENTINEL RECORD-NEW ERA, and Connelly Press were very helpful in furnishing us many scenic pictures of Hot Springs National Park.

I hope that you enjoy your OLD GOLD BOOK and recall many happy memories of living in a park in 1962-1963.

Thank you!

Jan

"OH, OUR STUPID EDITOR'S AT IT AGAIN!" was a staff comment when the camera caught Shelta and Jan having a little fun with a wig.

"CHOCOLATE-COVERED MUSHROOMS? Well, food's food I suppose," decides Vicki as she, Rodney, and Patty abandon work in favor of a snack.

"THEY'RE WRONG, ROGET'S THESAURUS IS WRONG, the whole world is wrong this early in the morning!" mutters Duane as she hibernates in a corner to rewrite copy.
